Welcome students and parents!

Thank you for your interest in my studio. Enclosed you will find my studio policy, a valuable article about students in music, a student questionnaire, and a biography about my musical background.

I love teaching the joy and expression of music at the piano. While I have an active career in piano performance and classical composition, I find it personally rewarding to be able to teach and share what I have had the privilege to learn in music.

My home studio is located at the above address, where I have a Baldwin grand piano.

I look forward to meeting you and beginning our adventure into learning the fine art of music.

Truly yours,

Jerod Tate
Pianist/Composer
